Authors : Aidan Hadley, Tony Lin, Nolan Jones, Mo Morales, Hudson Davis

Problem Statement:

With the use of our app, customers can see the wait times for all the fine dining restaurants in their area.

Who is experiencing the problem?

- People who want to purchase food while on a time constraint.
- People who want to minimize the waiting time when choosing where to eat

What is the Problem?

- There's not a rigid way to get information about available spots from sit-down restaurants through your phone.

Where does the problem present itself?

- This problem commonly occurs in businesses located in high-traffic areas of cities.

Why does it matter?

- Waiting 40 minutes is frustrating for customers who want to eat and for hosts who might potentially lose customers over the wait time.
- Provides a more efficient method of getting customers in and out of the restaurant, boosting revenue for the establishment
- Less stress on hosts/hostesses working at restaurants
